

I do not see any reason to have a change to the current law. I do not want unsolicited calls at all, even from companies I did business with at one time.